

SHOWstudio 25th Anniversary Box Set

SHOWstudio announces the Box Set, a limited-edition collection of artworks including contributions from the world's leading fashion designers, artists and creative minds who have worked with director and founder Nick Knight throughout the studio's 25 years, a nod to Marcel Duchamp's Museum in a box.

There are 120 editions of the Box Set, each containing 25 contributions from the SHOWstudio universe, including one artwork from a mystery guest, making every Box Set unique.

25 years ago, on 27 November 2000, I launched SHOWstudio; an internet site and a studio where I could create the new medium of fashion film, explore the new emerging technologies that would reshape and transform the fashion world and to collaborate with artists whose work I found inspirational.

I saw a brand new cultural landscape opening up before me full of incredibly exciting possibilities; live streaming, 3D scanning & printing, CGI, avatars, AI and virtual reality coupled with the ability to fully share the process of creativity. All this before the advent of social media.

I decided early on that SHOWstudio should not be a business, set up to make profit, but to give it a voice free and independent from commercial restrictions and compromises. SHOWstudio felt so important to me, that I wanted to allow it to grow and to flourish purely for the love of art.

The art in this Box Set has been collected over the past five years and generously given by some of the brilliant people who have worked with me and whose art has inspired me and has shaped SHOWstudio throughout the last quarter of a century.

I want to take this moment to thank them and all of the many artists who have helped make SHOWstudio into a place of inspiration, freedom of expression and of love. And finally to thank you, for helping us continue on this incredible journey.

Nick Knight.

Dinos Chapman,
Artist

Monsters and Rabbits
Giclée print on paper

5.

Simon Foxton,
Stylist

Some pages from my scrapbooks
Printed zine on paper
297 x 208mm

"I love imagery of all sorts. Photography, illustration, painting, graphics, you name it. I prefer not to hoard magazines as they take up so much space so I cannibalise them. I keep the bits I like and stick them in books, the rest I recycle. I find the scrapbooks are a great source of reference material. They also help crystallise my own aesthetic, and at times the placing of images can create their own narratives by accident."

Lady Gaga,
Musician

A Sonnet for a Knight
Inkjet print on paper tipped into a letterpress printed 4pp cover
305 x 250mm

“John’s contribution on behalf of Maison Margiela is a printed, foldable poster, a collage composed of ‘unseen footage’ from the previous two artisanal seasons using documentary behind the scenes stills and photos. Relevant for a time capsule as this past year has marked a significant change in the way we (at Maison Margiela and elsewhere) work and view fashion, reflecting how the maison has adapted its couture practice to the current time, particularly in relation to technology.”
- Wednesday, June 9, 2021.

Craig Green,

“This artwork, created in collaboration with Daphne Guinness, explores the tension between the digital and the physical, intuition and code. Drawn with a plotter and a tattoo gun, each drawing repeats the same programmed gesture, yet the trace shifts every time, shaped by the unpredictability of the tool and the living, erratic energy of the tattoo machine. Just like a scorpion.”
- Arnaud Pfeffer
